Two blue-collar Jersey girls living in a world of dive bars, row houses and fading dreams find that in a quest for love and happiness, sometimes the hardest thing to see is yourself. This intimate, funny and poignant drama follows the lives of best friends Debby (Uma Thurman) and Beth (Juliette Lewis), two working girls from Bayonne whose efforts to land a man are thwarted by a myriad of social obstacles including motherhood, living arrangements and age. By contrast, Debby's aging mother Virginia

(Gena Rowlands) is the one who begins to finally find happiness—despite the initial skepticism of her daughter—through her discreet but fruitful relationship with a retired widower (Ben Gazzara) who gives Virginia the kind of love and attention that both of the younger women crave. Justin Chambers, Anthony DeSando and Jolie Peters co-star. Directed by Mira Nair (Monsoon Wedding). Written by Laura Cahill. Widescreen. (AC,AL) TV14-1:39. Aug.25,28,31

Allen plays a wretched failure of an insurance investigator who one day attends a performance by a devious hypnotist with ulterior motives. All of a sudden, the former sad sack embarks on a series of trance episodes (which he is unable to remember) that involve a heartfelt courtship of his hated rival at work (Helen Hunt)...and a successful side career as a nocturnal jewel thief!
